

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation and clearer, yet, more proof that the so-called leader of the free world would further devolve into fascism.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get, in this case, nothing less than an attempt at brainwashing, and essentially, government control of the media. It is an absolutely appalling mockery of the First Amendment, and will add to the ranks of the undecided...the decision being whether to move to Canada or Mexico should this election keep our so-called president in office. Keep in mind that a global poll conducted by the International Herald Tribune has Bush losing in a landslide. Will the FCC be complicit in furthering our once-great country's claim to being the world's pariah? WAKE UP!!

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
